

With the ageing population, the need for strategies to promote aging without disability is increasing. This is important for both older individuals and for society as a whole. This seminar explores the concept of frailty - opportunities and boundaries. Why is the condition so hard to define, how is it measured and what can we do to intervene?

Event Committee

Katarina Wilhelmson
Niklas Ekerstad
Tommy Cederholm
Anne-Marie Boström
Elisabet Rydwick
Anne W Ekdahl

Contributors

Professor Timo Strandberg
Professor Dawn Skelton
Professor Leocadio Rodríguez-Mañas
Niklas Ekerstad, MD, PhD
Professor Tommy Cederholm

Frailty: Opportunities and boundaries.

22nd of May, 2019
13.00 – 16.00
Gothenburg IAGG-ER

Doctoral student Amelie Lindh Mazya, MD

Welcome

Event Schedule

13.00 – 16.00

13.00-13.05	Welcome (Anne W Ekdahl)
13.05-13.30	Risk Factors of frailty (Timo Strandberg)
13.30-13.55	Frailty - Opportunities and Challenges (Dawn Skelton)
13.55-14.20	Answering to the challenges of frailty: From basic science to research on technology. (Leocadio Rodríguez-Mañas)
14.20-14.40	Coffee ☕
14.40-15.00	Frailty from a clinical perspective (Tommy Cederholm)
15.00-15.20	Clinical Frailty Scale in the SWEDEHEART registry. (Niklas Ekerstad)
15.20-15.40	Agreement of five frailty tools in a community dwelling population with high health care utilization (Amelie Lindh Mazya)
15.40-16.00	Discussion (all)